Who can apply?

Anyone who is interested in pursuing a career in compliance practices, quality management and risk assessment will find this programme of interest. The programme will benefit employees who are already working in the field of compliance, risk and quality control environment without the relevant qualification.

Admission Requirements

- The minimum entry requirement is Matric/Grade 12 the National Senior Certificate starting a Diploma or Degree or the National Certificate (Vocational) with appropriate subject combinations and level of achievement; or
- Recognised NQF Level 4 Qualification.
- Mature Age Exemption for students above the age of 23 years as set out in the Higher Education Regulations; or
- Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The qualifying learner must be able to work under supervision of a Compliance Officer or have an apprenticeship/Internship/workplace Integrated Learning agreement with an employer. Spectrium Graduate School of Business will sign a mentorship agreement between three parties: Spectrium Learner and mentor to ensure that practical and workplace skills are properly implemented.

Programme Description

Compliance Officers are responsible for ensuring that all corporate processes and procedures comply with the law. And not only the law — a Compliance Officer is also responsible for ensuring that company operations comply with internal and international risks and quality standards too. Therefore Compliance management is a discipline in its own right and requires application of a range of competencies that extend beyond the field of law, risks and quality management. This Occupational Certificate Compliance Officer provides the skills needed by risk, compliance and quality management personnel and competencies required when managing simple to moderately complex tasks. The Qualification includes compliance management competencies required locally and internationally as well as a selection of general management skills that are essential to a compliance practitioner

This is the underlying qualification required for a professional development pathway. Learners who obtain this qualification are eligible to become registered Compliance Practitioners. After obtaining more experience in the field and meeting additional professional development requirements they become eligible to write the Board Exam for Compliance Professionals.

Compliance Practitioners may articulate horizontally or diagonally to the related fields of Risk Management, Internal Audit or other specific assurance functions such as occupational health and safety.

Why you must enrol for this programme?

Learners who successfully complete the qualification will be able to:

- Mastermind compliance policies and protocols on behalf of the organization
- Help organizations manage risks and avoid lawsuits by ensuring business operations are performed in compliance with state and federal laws
- Develop and implement a compliance program to ensure the organization operates in accordance with national and international laws
- Develop, monitor and update general policies and processes related to ethics and compliance to ensure it is up-to-date
- Act as an independent evaluation and review body to ensure that incidents and compliance concerns within the company are evaluated, investigated and resolved in a confidential, objective and independent manner
- Collaborate with other areas such as Risk Management, Legal, Internal Audit, IT and HR to direct compliance incidents to the appropriate channels for their investigation.
- Regularly inform the Board of Directors about the company's E&C situation, the status of the E&C program as well as risks and incidents
